

REAP Grant Received

The City of Burlington was recently awarded a $150,000 grant by the Resource Enhancement and Protection Program (REAP) through the Iowa Department of Natural Resources to construct a portion of the Flint River Trail within Burlington City Limits. This is the second successful award the city has received through this program, and they are ready to start construction within the near future. Construction on the trail will begin this winter with more to follow in spring. The City and Des Moines County are continuously working to make the 20-mile Flint River Trail a reality, and to provide families from around the region with a great recreational opportunity to enjoy without breaking the bank.
